Roy Gardner May Serve Sentence in Leavenworth Prison

NOTORIOUS CONVICT
BEING GUARDED TO PREVENT ESCAPE

(By Associated Press)

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 17.—A notorious criminal is being guarded here to prevent his escape if he gets an opportunity.

Gardner, who was captured Tuesday night by Herman Isenried, railway mail clerk, will be taken to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, to finish serving two 25-year sentences in accordance with orders from the department of justice. He will not be tried on the charge of assaulting Underhill and attempting to rob the mail car.

Sheriff Montgomery read a warrant to Gardner charging him with criminally assaulting Maria Munoz here October 24. Gardner's only comment was "fair enough." The girl, according to the sheriff, positively identified Gardner as the man who attacked her. Trial of Gardner on a charge of attempting to rob the mails here was ordered today from Washington in order that the reward of $5000 offered for mail robbers may be paid to Underhill, his captor.

NARCOTIC SALE
TO BE STOPPED
BY LOCAL MAN

Steps are being taken in Nevada to inaugurate a narcotic control association similar to that which is being organized in California with J. A. Johnson, warden of the San Quentin prison, at its head. A letter was sent Monday to Harlan Howard, of Reno, deputy district attorney, by Joseph C. Piercy, a member of the state board of pharmacy, seeking Howard's co-operation in the organization work.

As chairman of the judiciary committee of the lower house, Howard drafted the amendments to the state anti-narcotic law, providing, among other things, obligatory jail sentences in narcotic cases.

While Mr. Piercy is silent as to the functions of the proposed organization, it is assumed that it will have to do primarily with the enforcement of the law already in effect and certain educational steps to accentuate the terrible consequences of the drug evil. Piercy has become interested in the work through correspondence with Warden Johnson.

YOUNGEST VET
OF CIVIL WAR IS VISITOR HERE

The youngest living veteran of the Civil war who fought throughout the rebellion of 1861-65, is a visitor to Tonopah. He is P. A. C. Stevens of Omaha, Nebraska, father of James Stevens, well-known musician of this town, and he is en route to Los Angeles where he expects to reside in the future.

Mr. Stevens, although 75 years of age, is hale and hearty, and does not look a day over 60 years. He is big and strong and stalwart, and says he would have little trouble in still handling the son, who, by the way, is a heavyweight, and to this statement James Stevens agrees.

P. A. C. Stevens enlisted with the first call for volunteers for the Civil war at the age of 13 years, and became a member of the Ninety-seventh Illinois Infantry as a drummer boy. He participated in 14 battles, and when the great conflict drew to a close he was drum major of his regiment.

With the outbreak of the Spanish-American war this venerable fighter volunteered and was made colonel of the Third Nebraska Infantry at the age of 52 years, and served with distinction throughout the conflict. Not content with having rendered efficient service to his country through two wars, Colonel Stevens volunteered when the call to arms was sounded for the late world war and passed a perfect examination. The gray hairs caused inquiry and investigation to be made of his age, and he finally admitted he had served through both the Civil and Spanish-American wars, and he was rejected. He says he could have withstood the hardships of any assignment which might have been delegated to him, and is regretful of the fact that he could not have been of service in maintaining the integrity of his country.

Mr. Stevens expects to stay here until Saturday morning, when he will leave for Los Angeles.
